WHAT CAN DOUG FOGEL DO FOR YOU?

As a professional resume writer, Doug Fogel combines all the skills he honed as a newspaper reporter/editor and copywriter to create attention-grabbing resumes.

He starts by doing an in-depth interview of each client, asking probing questions designed to extract critical information for their resumes and to help them prepare for job interviews.

Then he researches the fields his clients want to work in and the employers they want to work for, which provides additional nuggets of information he uses to help them stand out from competing job seekers.

Drawing on his nearly three decades of professional writing experience, he then crafts a personalized resume that's guaranteed to grab the attention of resume screeners.
